

Ethos

Build, Belong, Believe

Vision

We believe that every child and adult should have the ambition to achieve their very best. Every child needs a champion and we believe the adults in our school champion our children every day to help them achieve great things. Respect - both to oneself and others - is vital and by showing and receiving this we hope for everyone to be happy. We also think that learning is best done together and that through collaboration we can gain a true sense of belonging - our Kingfisher family!

Through our vision and ethos it is hoped that our children will develop acceptance and engage with the fundamental British values of democracy, law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs. We also aim for children to develop and demonstrate skills and attitudes that will allow them to fully participate and contribute positively to life in modern Britain.

Values

Building Character

Love of Learning

Hopes and Dreams

Working Together